

Career/Life Transition Coaching

Debby Magnuson, MA, CPCC, is a coach and leadership consultant with deep experience helping people of all ages and life stages make successful career and life transitions. After leaving a corporate career in 2002, she earned an MA in Counseling Psychology as well as a Coaching certification. Before retiring in 2020, she was VP of Talent Management and an Executive Coach with Career Partners International and was on the faculty of St. Catherine University's MA in Organizational Leadership program. She trained as a BreathLogic instructor in 2020 and enjoys integrating breath practices into her work with clients. <https://www.linkedin.com/in/debbymagnuson>

"Debby is expert at identifying individual needs, creating and delivering targeted coaching, and leading clients on a path to success. She is extremely practical and skilled, and her secret sauce is the ability to listen between the words, ask the most important questions, and inspire confidence. (Career Coaching Client)

"Debby is dynamic leader with extensive experience in executive coaching and as a career counselor. Her mentorship and guidance helped me twice in my career, first with leadership development and most recently through my career transition period." (Career Transition Coaching Client)
